

Enveloping Curve Sofa

Sofas / Curved Forms

Rounded ends meet the back along a continuous curve, bringing this sofa around the central table. Separate cushions break up the outline without changing the direction of the seat. The photographs show how the ends frame the arrangement.

Allow for the full curve when setting out a rug or placing nearby chairs. Space around the outside is useful for keeping the rounded silhouette visible.

Design & construction

The seat follows a curve, with rounded ends meeting the back. A light silhouette and separate cushions create an enveloping arrangement around a coffee table.
