

Blade

Tables / Classic Collection

Blade keeps the table outline spare: a thin top above slender metal legs, with open space under the surface. The images show low rectangular tables alongside taller side-table formats, allowing height changes without a heavy base.

The listed construction pairs ceramic tops with metal legs. When combining sizes, compare their edges and heights with the sofa arm and seat line, leaving a clear path around the arrangement rather than filling every gap.

Care instructions

Use coasters and heat-resistant mats on the top; lift objects instead of dragging them and protect the edges from knocks.

Remove loose dust from the ceramic top first; protect thin edges and corners and avoid blades or abrasive pads.

Wipe the exposed metal legs or base with a soft, dry cloth; keep mop water off the feet and avoid abrasive polishes.
