

Oliver TV Unit

Cabinets & Storage / Classic Collection

Oliver organizes media storage along a low horizontal body raised on visible supports. Covered fronts and small handles keep the long outline consistent, while the gap beneath separates the cabinet from the floor.

Its recorded construction uses a leather-covered wood frame with glass or selected ceramic surfaces. The reference design has modular storage arrangements; check the selected layout alongside the television, equipment and cable route rather than assuming every photographed compartment has the same internal fittings.
